DAHLIAS for 1927

YEARS of careful testing of many varieties of dahlias and the selection of only those that measure up to our standards of what a dahlia should be, have resulted in the forming of the small select collection now offered.

The past season our fields were one of the show spots of the East and were declared by competent judges to be one of the finest plantings of dahlias ever grown in this section.

The absolute freedom of our dahlias from stunted or diseased plants assure our customers of strong healthy stock.

Sagamore

"The Golden Beauty"

Picture a field of vigorous healthy plants, uniform in growth and completely covered with these huge golden blooms and you have a fair idea of the natural beauty of Sagamore.

Sagamore has been a consistent prize winner since it won first prize as best seedling at the New York show of the American Dahlia Society in 1921—first for best two year old seedling in 1922 and the "Darnell Cup" for best keeping variety in the A. D. S. Show in 1923.

Sagamore has played a leading part in making the dahlia a favorite fall flower with florists wherever it has been introduced.

You will be delighted with Sagamore and will find it a wonderful prize winner as well as a profitable cut flower.
